London 2019

Overview

The Biometric Summit and IdentiKon London in November 2019 builds on the success of the Biometric Summit London 2018 and will include further sessions and engagement on digital identity as well as innovation in biometric technology.

The key themes of the event will be biometric technology, authentication and digital identity with the aim of bringing together sponsors, delegates and research for a thought leading and educational event through enlightening talks, panels and workshops.

With up to 120 senior leaders in cyber security and identity, biometric technology specialists and the FinTech community, this power-packed summit provides plenty of opportunity for networking with peers and making new contacts. This is an outstanding opportunity to learn from experts and end-users, bringing together investors and buyers interested in discovering the latest innovation in biometric technology, authentication and digital identity.
